The genealogy of “Keiseki jin” in Japan and China modern police system

Hitoshi Tokuoka

Japan and China has the long history that the power uses criminals as crime investigation activity as fingers. This history has length same as legal codes system.

This system continued during per-modern in Japan and China. There is the trace in Japan and China after modern times. But, it does not stay as a clear system in the two countries. I must study this problem in future.
